FROM OUR PASTOR

Watch the commercials on TV in January. Weight loss programs, gyms, online dating services, closet organizers, and nicotine substitutes sponsor nearly every type of program. On New Year's Day, nearly all of Amazon.com's Daily Deal books addressed common resolutions. Statistics show that 62% of Americans make some level of commitment to a resolution and only 8% claim success in reaching their goals. Many people want to change, but few do. So if you want to change something about your life in 2014, here are four steps that may help.

- 1. Be specific. "I will lose 20 pounds" is much easier to target and track than "I will lose weight."
- 2. Break your resolution into a series of smaller goals. Losing 2 pounds a month is less daunting than "I will lose 25 pounds this year." If your weight stays flat one month, you can stage a rebound the next month and loose two pounds then.
- 3. No matter what happens... Along the way you will have mini failures. You will binge on Rocky Road or pizza when you intended to have a salad. You can't change yesterday, but you can say, "No matter what else happens today, I will eat right." Stop worrying about yesterday's failure; commit to today's success. This step also helps you in the long-term. Just as you can't change yesterday, you can't accomplish your entire goal in one day. Don't let all future days overwhelm you. Just do the right thing today and then work on tomorrow when it gets here. This approach is one of the reasons why 12-step programs succeed. Remember "One day at a time?" Today is all you have, so focus on accomplishing your resolution today.
- 4. Use Faith. Christians will hear echoes of Jesus in "one day at a time." The master said, "Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own." (Matthew 6:34). Let your faith strengthen your resolution this year.

Finding My Way Through the Bible –

Wednesdays, 6:20 p.m. in the Dining Room Each Wednesday in January, Dr. Snider will be teaching a seminar designed to help us start the year using our Bibles well. Learn how to read your Bible devotionally, as well as for study. Also, discover why so many translations exist and how their differences add to or distract from the understanding of Scripture. Count on Dr. Snider providing a comfortable atmosphere for everyone without the fear of being singled out, or that that others may know more than another.
